4. VALUATION APPROACH:

- 4.1 The Scheme contemplates the Proposed Merger under Sections 230-232 and other applicable provisions of Companies Act, 2013 and rules issued thereunder to the extent applicable.
- 4.2 Arriving at the fair value share exchange ratio for the purpose of merger such as proposed merger would require determining the relative values of each company involved and of their shares. These values are to be determined independently but on relative basis, without considering the effect of the merger.
- 4.3 There are several commonly used and accepted methods for determining the value of shares/businesses, which have been considered in the present case, to arrive at the Fair Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the purpose of proposed Merger to the extent relevant and applicable, including:
- a) Net Asset Value (NAV) Method;
 - b) Earnings Capitalisation Value Method;
 - c) Discounted Cash Flow Method
 - d) Market Price Method

It should be understood that the valuation of any company or its assets is inherently subjective and is subject to uncertainties and contingencies, all of which are difficult to predict and are beyond our control. In performing our analysis, we made assumptions with respect to industry performance and general business and economic conditions, many of which are beyond the control of the companies. In addition, this valuation will fluctuate with changes in prevailing market conditions, the conditions and prospects, financial and otherwise, of the companies businesses, and other factors which generally influence the valuation of companies

The application of any particular method of valuation depends on the purpose for which the valuation is done. Although different values may exist for different purposes, it cannot be too strongly emphasized that a valuer can only arrive at one value for one purpose. Our choice of methodology of valuation has been arrived at using usual and conventional methodologies adopted for transactions of a similar nature and our reasonable judgment, in an independent and bona fide manner based on our previous experience of assignments of a similar nature.

Net Asset Value (NAV) Method

The asset based valuation technique is based on the value of the underlying net assets of the business, either on a book value basis or realizable value basis or replacement cost basis. The Net Asset Value ignores the future return the assets can produce and is calculated using historical accounting data that does not reflect how much the business is worth to someone who may buy or invest in the business as a going concern. This valuation approach is mainly used in case where the firm is to be liquidated i.e. it does not meet the "going concern" criteria or in case where the assets base dominate earnings capability. A Scheme of Amalgamation and Arrangement would normally be proceeded with, on the assumption that the companies amalgamate as going concerns and an actual realization of the operating assets is not contemplated. The operating assets have therefore been considered at their book value. In such a going concern scenario, the relative earning power is of importance to the basis of amalgamation, with the values arrived at on the net asset basis being of limited relevance.

We have computed the Net Asset Value of equity shares of the Companies. We have considered the balance sheets as at the March 31, 2016 and made suitable adjustments for, inter-alia, surplus assets as deemed appropriate for the purpose of our valuation analysis. In the present case, keeping in mind that our evaluation is on a going concern basis and having regard to the diverse nature of the businesses of the Companies, we have not considered it appropriate to apply this method in the present case for arriving at the value of the Companies.

Earnings Capitalisation Value Method

Under this method, value of the equity shares of a company is arrived at by using multiples/capitalization rates derived from valuations of comparable companies, as manifest through stock market valuations of listed companies. This valuation is based on the principle that market valuations, taking place between informed buyers and informed sellers, incorporate all factors relevant to valuation. Relevant multiples/ capitalization rates need to be chosen carefully and adjusted for differences between the circumstances.

We have performed a search for suitable comparable companies for the Companies to derive an appropriate capitalization rate/multiple and have considered the appropriate Income based valuation multiples of comparable listed companies for the purpose of our valuation analysis. To arrive at the total value available to the equity shareholders of HTL and GAGL, the value of the businesses of HTL and GAGL arrived at above under this method has been suitably adjusted, inter-alia, for debt, cash, value of investments and value of surplus assets as deemed appropriate, for the purpose of our valuation analysis. The total value for equity shareholders is then divided by the total number of equity shares of HTL and GAGL respectively, in order to work out the value per equity share of HTL and GAGL.

Discounted Cash Flows (DCF) Method

Under the DCF method the projected free cash flows to the firm are discounted at the cost of capital. The sum of the discounted value of such free cash flows is the value of the firm. Using the DCF analysis involves determining the following:

Estimating future free cash flows:

Free cash flows are the cash flows expected to be generated by the Company that are available to all providers of the company's capital both debt and equity.

Appropriate discount rate to be applied to cash flows i.e. the cost of capital of the shareholders:

This discount rate, which is applied to the free cash flows, should reflect the opportunity cost to all the capital providers (namely shareholders and creditors), on a market participant basis, weighted by their relative contribution to the total capital of the company. The opportunity cost to the capital provider equals the rate of return the capital provider expects to earn on other investments of equivalent risk.

To arrive at the total value available to the equity shareholders of the Companies, the value of the businesses of Companies arrived under DCF method has been suitably adjusted, inter alia, for debt, cash, value of investments and

The total value for equity shareholders is then divided by the total number of equity shares of the respective Companies in order to work out the value per equity share of the Companies.

Market Price Method

The market price of an equity share as quoted on a stock exchange is normally considered as the value of the equity shares of that company where such quotations are arising from the shares being regularly and freely traded in, subject to the element of speculative support that may be inbuilt in the value of the shares. But there could be situations where the value of the share as quoted on the stock market would not be regarded as a proper index of the fair value of the share especially where the market values are fluctuating in a volatile capital market. Further, in case of merger, where the question of evaluating the shares of one company against of another, the volume of transactions and the number of shares available for trading on stock exchange over a reasonable period would have to be of comparable standard.

In the present case, the equity shares of GAGL are listed on BSE Limited but those of HTL is not listed on any recognised stock exchanges. In such a case, where we are valuing the Companies on a relative basis, we deemed it appropriate to not consider the Market Price for the purpose of valuation.

5. Basis of Fair Equity Share Exchange Ratio

The fair basis of the Proposed Merger would have to be determined after taking into consideration all the factors and methodologies mentioned hereinabove. Though different values can be arrived at under each of the above methodologies, for the purposes of recommending a Fair Equity Share Exchange Ratio it is necessary to arrive a single value for the shares of the Companies involved in a merger such as Proposed Merger. It is however important to note that in doing so, we are not attempting to arrive at the absolute values of the shares of the Companies but at their relative values to facilitate the determination of Fair Equity Share Exchange Ratio. For this purpose, it is necessary to give appropriate weights to the value arrived at under each methodology. For arriving at the value of equity shares of the Companies, for the purpose of arriving at the Share Exchange Ratio for the proposed merger, we have given weights to the values arrived at under different methodologies, based on our evaluation and judgement of the businesses of the Companies, in order to arrive at the relative values of the equity shares of the Companies.

In the ultimate analysis, valuation will have to be arrived at by the exercise of judicious discretion by the valuer and judgments taking into account all the relevant factors. There will always be several factors, e.g. quality of the management, present and prospective competition, yield on comparable securities and market sentiment, etc. which are not evident from the face of the balance sheets but which will strongly influence the worth of a share. This concept is also recognised in judicial decisions.

The Fair Equity Share Exchange Ratio has been arrived at on the basis of a relative valuation of the equity shares of HTL and GAGL based on the various methodologies explained herein earlier and various qualitative factors relevant to each company and the business dynamics and growth potentials of the business of the Companies, having regard to the information base, key underlying assumptions and limitations.

In light of the above, and on a consideration of all the relevant factors and circumstances as discussed and outlined herein above, we recommend the following Share Exchange Ratio for the proposed merger:

"3(Three) fully paid up Equity Shares of face value Rs 2/- (Rupees Two only) each of the GAGL for every 13[Thirteen] fully paid up Equity Share of face value of Rs 10/- (Rupees Ten Only) each held in HTL".

Yours faithfully,
